

President's Labor Day Message

Dear Members

Labor Day is coming up, and sadly, it brings the end to summer, but more importantly, it is the day we celebrate the workers of America.

Those of us who get up each day and provide products and services for each other and do so to ensure a decent life for our families

The officers and the board appreciate each one of you who, during your job, provide safety and security to those you interact with. However, very few realize what you have done for them.

When nothing happens, you have had a good day, and when needed, you are there, taking great personal risks to protect others.

You can be assured that those of us charged with representing you work daily to ensure you are as safe as possible and get the wages and benefits you deserve.

Many of you will be working on this holiday while many are not, as your jobs are 24/7.

We will continue to work for you, and when you need us, we WILL be there.

Chip
